Dear

NHS No:

Everyone aged 50+ gets a bowel cancer screening FIT kit in the post.

This is sent from the NHS bowel cancer screening programme because bowel cancer is more common in older people.

You test your poo at home using a FIT kit that looks like this. Doing the test can help to find early signs of bowel problems that may need to be looked at.

The leaflet that we have sent you tells you about bowel cancer screening.

It will help you make a choice.

If you are worried or have any questions then you can contact your GP and ask for more help.
