

Support

The Eve appeal is a charity that can offer support about all gynae related cancers.

These are cancers that affect your vagina, cervix and womb

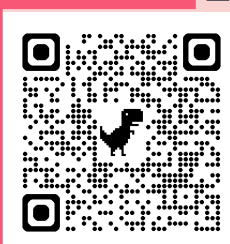

If you're worried about any unusual symptoms or need advice you can call this number.

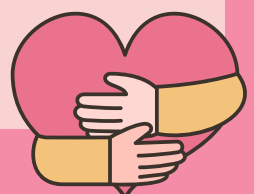

0808 802 0019

A nurse from the Eve appeal will call you back. It is free to call.

SCAN HERE ↙

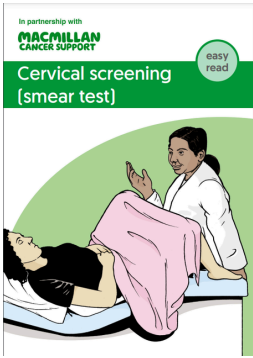

Scan this QR code with your phone camera to go to their website and learn more.

Resources

Here are some things you can read or use that may help you with your cervical screening

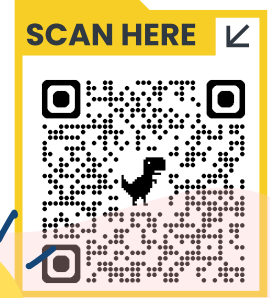

Macmillan have an Easy Read booklet on cervical screening

Scan this QR code to look at the booklet online

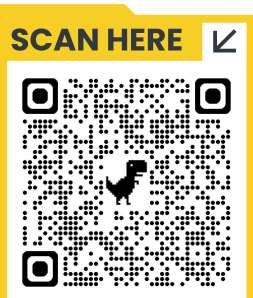

Cancer research have a video about what cervical screening is and what happens at one

Scan this QR code to watch it on Youtube

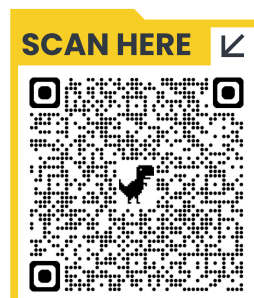

The Survivors Trust have a card that survivors of abuse can take to their screening to help them be supported

Scan this QR code to see and print it

The get checked out website has resources about cervical screening that can help with your appointment

Scan this QR code to go to the website