

What is cervical screening?

Cervical screening is a test where they use a small brush to take some of the cells in your cervix.

This is checked to see if you have HPV.

It also checks if there are any changes to your cells.

Scan this QR code with your phone to see our easy read booklet

FACTS

- It starts when you turn 25
- It happens every 5 years
- It is free!
- It can help prevent cervical cancer.
- It tests for HPV
- It can find changes in your cells that can be treated before they turn into cancer.
- It usually takes about 10 minutes.